

Dr. Aleksandra M. Pećinar received her BA degree in Modern Greek Language and literature, MA in General Contemporary History and PhD from the Belgrade University. Dr. Alexandra M. Pecinar is an Honorary Academician of Social Sciences of the "International Academy of Social Sciences" (IASS), Palm Beach, Florida, USA.

As a researcher and translator she worked with The Greek Association for the Preservation of Historical Archives during 1940-1974, in Athens, and the Hellenic National Audio-Visual Archives (He NAA), Athens, Greece. (Greek Ministry of Press)

Dr. Pećinar is an Adviser on Geostrategic Issues in Southeast Europe of European Center for Peace and Development, United Nations-mandated University for Peace in Belgrade, Serbia. Moreover she is Associate of the "School of National Defense" of Republic of Serbia, University "Defense" (Ministry of Defense of Republic of Serbia.) Also, she is a Fellow-member of the National Research Foundation "Eleftherios K. Venizelos" in Chania, Crete, Greece and a member of the "Institute of Naval history" in Portugal.

As an author Dr. Pećinar published her last book "Diplomatic and Allied Relations of Serbia and Greece (1912-1918)" Dr. Pećinar is a granddaughter of Academician Miladin Pećinar who was a pioneer of Serbian hydrology engineering and one of 1.300 corporals who participated in Albanian Golgotha during the First World War.

She has several honors and awards.